

Towards a fully digital Erasmus+ programme.

Over 3000 Higher Education Institutions have now requested access to the Erasmus Dashboard while more than 1100 universities asked for the activation of the Online Learning Agreement with the Erasmus Without Paper network!

Furthermore, the digitalisation of the Erasmus+ programme continues in full swing following the launch of the Erasmus+ App. On Tuesday, September 21st, the conference illustrating the App's new features was followed by over 4000 participants. Relive the event here.

A specific webinar tailored for Higher Education Institutions will take place on the 21st of October to illustrate the impact of the Erasmus+ App and provide practical guidance on its use. Participants of the EAIE 2021 Conference at the end of September can also hear about the latest release in the session "A mobility journey through the Erasmus+ App".

EU Foundation Annual Report 2020.

Throwback to 2020, an extraordinary year of online events, resilience and rapid growth in times of pandemic! Discover the EU Foundation Annual Report and learn more about the various actions and milestones achieved by the EU Foundation network!

ErasmusJobs competence booklet.

This booklet, a useful tool for future graduates, presents relevant competences developed during Erasmus+ mobilities, including common skills employers look for, skills gained through mobility that match employer's needs, among others. The ErasmusJobs project aims to jointly improve the transition from higher education to the labour market.

Transferable skills in doctoral education.

Training PhD candidates in transferable skills is crucial to improve their career prospects (useful even for those staying in academia). Adaptability, flexibility, motivation, communication, teamwork, cooperation and language skills are particularly sought after by non-academic stakeholders. DocEnhance's 1st policy brief describes the need for improving PhD candidates' transferable skills. The brief along with the lessons learned from the project were also presented during the Eurodoc 2021 Annual Conference.

EU Foundation at the EAIE Conference.

The EU Foundation will be participating in the EAIE conference which will take place from September 28th to October 1st. EU Foundation representatives will intervene in several sessions on different topics ranging from student employability, sustainable student mobility, to Erasmus student skill development. Furthermore, a poster will introduce the Erasmus+ Teaching Mobility Platform: a virtual marketplace where institutions and academic staff can offer and find teaching and training opportunities easily and effectively.
