PhD Hub: a platform for European research collaboration.

Collaboration is a key feature of research and innovation. But how do researchers and non-academic partners find out about each other, especially when it comes to cross-sectoral or international initiatives? The PhD Hub has been created to connect researchers, enterprises and the society at large.

Easy-to-use search functions and multi-filtering options will help users to find or publish personalised opportunities. Higher education institutions, doctoral schools, research centres and companies can publish their courses, funding opportunities, event invitations or calls for internships. Whether they are targeting a small group of people interested in a specific topic or looking to reach a wider public, they can easily reach their audience here.

The success of such platforms depends largely on the users. Join your colleagues and discover what the PhD Hub has to offer!

■ More sustainable Erasmus+ mobility.

The new Erasmus+ programme 2021-2027 is set to be larger, more inclusive and more ambitious. It can also be a lot greener. In order to raise awareness on the environmental impact of the European higher education sector and empower students, Higher Education Institutions and decision-makers to be agents of change, we have rounded up the main results and resources of the Erasmus Goes Green and the Green Erasmus projects. Enjoy the read!

■ NORM project doubles down this month.

The NORM consortium is organising two online events at the end of November. The first one, "Making Mobility the NORM by Enabling Students to Automatically Access Course Catalogue Information", is taking place today in the afternoon and will focus on the prototype of a digital curricular matching tool. The second one, Making Mobility the NORM by Designing Mobility-friendly Study Programs, is set to take place tomorrow morning and will focus on curricula design and accreditation procedures.

■ 10 years of Erasmus Without Paper

On December 1st, join the EWP consortium and celebrate with them the first 10 years of Erasmus Without Paper. It will be an occasion to retrace the steps of how EWP came about (the past), take stock of current challenges and accomplishments (the present) and share new inspiring ideas for the future.

■ Students' well-being surveys.

How can we ensure students' well-being, a key factor for their academic success? Please help the WISE project to map out the situation and define the necessary actions by filling in a questionnaire for HEIs and spreading surveys for students and student organisations before the 30th of November.

■ The new ESCI portal is now up and running.

Here you can find everything about the three big blocks of the initiative: the European Student Card, the Erasmus+ App and Erasmus Without Paper. The new portal provides detailed information about these tools in a structured and easy-to-understand way. Discover their benefits, how they work and how you can make the most of them!

■ Is the new Erasmus for all?

The Erasmus for All consortium organised the first multiplier event on November 15th. Titled "Is the new Erasmus for all? Proposals towards a more inclusive Erasmus scholarship", the conference brought together major stakeholders, including National Agencies, students' organisations, students and higher education staff. If you couldn't attend the event in Porto nor online, you can watch the recording here.
